What's Happening with Workday SIS (Student)?

Discovery sessions with each workstream and the Workday consultants have officially ended. During the final week of Discovery, all of the workstreams were officially onboarded to CHESS.

According to CHESS Project Manager Amanda Lamb Rupe, "The Student Core/Cross Functional Workstream was officially onboarded on Wednesday. The team was introduced to workstream-specific roles, responsibilities, and operations as well as the project RAAIDQ (Risk, Action, Alignment, Issue, Decision, Question) Logand governance structure. We've taken the time to reflect on what inspired us to work in higher education, which prepared us to discuss the student life cycle with a Student Core/Cross-functional perspective."

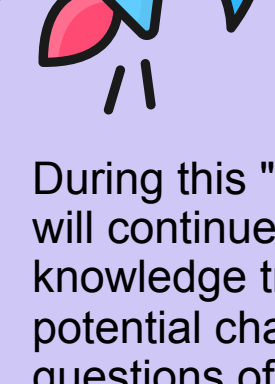

The goal now is for the workstreams to work together to build alignment as much as possible and to do this in reflection of the CHESS Board SIS Visioning Statement. The Workday Consultants for each workstream begin with a review of all the collective information on business processes from the Discovery sessions to build a scope of the work that aligns with our member colleges' business processes.
